the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age is expected to increase by 1.5 billion, from 1.2 billion in 1990 to 2.7 billion in 2015.

As the world's population grows, the demand for food and other resources will increase. This will put pressure on the environment and on the world's food supply. It is important that we find ways to meet this demand without harming the environment or the world's food supply.

One way to meet this demand is to increase the efficiency of our food production. This can be done by using better farming techniques, such as crop rotation and the use of fertilizers. It can also be done by using better irrigation techniques, such as drip irrigation.

Another way to meet this demand is to reduce the amount of food that is wasted. This can be done by using food more efficiently, such as by using leftovers and by composting food waste.

It is important that we find ways to meet the world's growing demand for food and other resources without harming the environment or the world's food supply. This will require the cooperation of all people in the world.

Amidst the clutter of pictures, paper and typewriters, Dunes staffers profit from a custodian strike day by working on their assignments.

Dunes staffers collect memories of laughs, work

Contemplating a cutline, Miss Judy Richter ponders the possibility of a better verb.

Publishing the Dunes produced a kaleidoscope of memories for the staff. We compiled a minibook of famous Dunes quotations with "me-thinks thou doth protest too much," "give me strength," "what's a kaleidoscope?" "nobody understands me," "journalism," "man of the opposite sex," "don't matz that up," "chaff is the income tax of popularity," "I saw it in a grocery store," "quick! chew seven sticks of gum!"

Our experiences—sitting on Viet Nam, dipping hair in black paint, arguing on April 1, flying from the door, climbing on the file cabinets, fighting for workable typewriters, tripping over the sales total, taping and retaping kaleidoscope, searching through the pix file and working at Miss Richter's apartment enlivened our yearbook slavery.

We laughed-cried over wrong random right, Dean's sawed off leg, finicky Gertie and Bandersnatch, profound dreams, visitors, gummed up Dunes, adding machine, red-footed pigeons, Trids, Tom Jones, Monica's wart, N.N. & S.S., e.e. Cummings, Bozo, stale peanuts, crou-tions, Tiger, patrol, munchkins, Miss R's beautiful yellow crayon.

Like any major undertaking, Dunes required ideas, work and cooperation from staff, volunteers and draftees. To these people editor Patsy Kaply owes thanks: Pat Pritchett, editorial asst.; Debbie Runyan, Linda Tapper, photography editors; Leanne Hoagland, Joyce Kilmer, layout editors; Lynda Perkins, faculty editor; Marie Schiltz, senior editor; Olivia Reyes, Nicki Solan, underclass editors; Kathy DeGuilio, academics editor; Kathy Kaminski, index editor; and all the copywriters, ID takers and typists. Special thanks to Miss Judy Richter for her tolerance and adept advice; Harry Dudzik of Bodie's; JoAnne Keeler for her ingenious ad section; Bonnie Frevert for her infectious laugh and willing ability to fill in anywhere; Monica Leeney for her literary perseverance and the knack of not catching on.

The 845 yearbooks, printed by DeLaney on 100-lb. enamel paper, sported 30 pt. Futura italic heads, 10/12 Metro regular body copy and 8/9 Metro bold and regular cutlines. SK Smith Co. of Chicago supplied the Basin Street blue covers designed by Michelle Slupski.

Return, regard, rejuvenation mark school year

Rejuvenating top floor corridor walls, workman smooths on plaster prior to painting.

Returning to DOHHS in fall 1968, 1200 Wildcats regarded with fondness the fire-scarred walls and halls. It was home, a welcome sight after the vagabonding that followed the December 1967 fire.

Soon, however, HHS loyalists found themselves faced with the school board's decision to merge Clark and HHS. With "Pride" the password and "Keep HHS Alive" the motto, they spent the year guarding against any untimely burials.

They petitioned successfully for a post-fire facelifting for the 50-year-old building. Cheerfully dodging scaffolds and chunks of plaster, Wildcats exhibited the flexibility and diversity so characteristic of their kaleidoscope of 1968-69.

Monitor Sue Michaw serves in hallway typical of HHS before remodeling began. Workmen started replastering and painting in December.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE

An opportunity to serve awaits industrious young men and women at Northern Indiana Public Service Company. As one of the top gas and electric distribution utilities in the United States, NIPSCO is constantly looking for new processes and methods of efficient operation. These include atomic power generation, extra high voltage transmission, underground electric distribution, computerized system planning, underground storage of natural gas, community analyses and electronic data processing.

Ready to grow with a growing company?

IN AN ATMOSPHERE OF GROWTH

NIPSCO is one of the highest-paying utilities in the State of Indiana. Its attractive employee benefit package—tuition refund plan, vacations, holidays, life insurance, comprehensive medical insurance, pensions, etc.—provides an atmosphere for individual growth. Fifteen leading colleges and universities are strategically located throughout its service area with others available in the greater Chicago area. Drop in. We'll be glad to talk jobs with you.

Yearbook, newspaper select DeLaney for printing

Besides printing the Herald and Dunes, DeLaney offers quality job printing of stationery and invitations. Located at 113 Sibley St.,

Hammond, 933-0656, DeLaney's craftsmanship pleases its customers.

Creative photography distinguishes Bodie studio

Responsible for Dunes, Herald, and senior photography, Bodie specializes in commercial, industrial, and wedding pictures. The corner of State and Hohman positions Bodie in downtown Hammond. 932-1493

Seeking picture ideas, Bodie man Harry Dudzik covers a track meet.

Working with Bodie photos, Leanne Hoagland designs music pages.

Ads, index

From drive-in restaurants to expansive shopping centers, Hammond High students patronized a myriad of area merchants. River Oaks, Woodmar and Downtown Hammond provided a plenitude of stores where young shoppers splurged savings on sales and invested earnings for essentials. Contributing to the totality of the marketing scene, Calumet industries backboned the area's economy.

Baccalaureate, graduation finalize seniors' year

Comprising one of recent history's smaller classes with fewer than 300, grads whirled through finalities.

Seniors won first place in the traditional homecoming float competition with "Make 'Em Whine."

During free minutes, seniors placed announcement orders with Printcraft Card Co. Jan. 15 and 16.

Second semester activities included measurements for caps and gowns by Collegiate Cap & Gown Co. Jan. 31 and the senior class play, "The Family Man," March 28.

At senior honors day May 21 Mr. Herbert Wattam, National Honor Society sponsor, introduced members and announced scholarship winners.

"Under the Sweetheart Tree" themed prom at Scherwood Club May 9 before baccalaureate June 1, banquet June 2, graduation June 5.

Mr. Lawrence Lundgren, sponsor; Garry Adams, president; Mrs. Margaret Mertens, sponsor.

Embarking on their first year as upperclassmen, class of 1970 looked forward to social events including homecoming, Washington trip and the junior-senior prom.

Class of '70's float, "Beat the Riders Just for Kicks," displayed a giant football shoe and captured third place in float competition.

Juniors joined upperclassmen from other Hammond schools for the Washington-NYC trip in October.

Class began preparing for the prom toward the end of first semester. Utilizing the theme "Under the Sweetheart Tree," students planned decorations and the site. They chose Scherwood Club for both the prom and post-prom party.

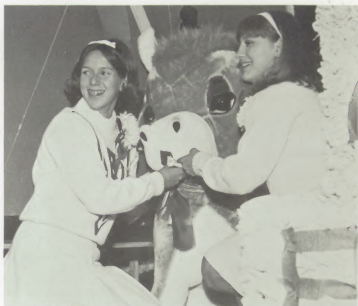

To defray prom expenses, junior class sponsored a car wash in early spring and a soc hop April 19.

In their scholastic life, juniors learned class rankings, took PSAT, NMSQT and SAT tests and began thinking about post-graduation.

Float, sale, play harness energy of soph class

Cuddling a stuffed donkey, sophomore cheerers Debbie Terry and Dawn Schleizer ride the class float, "We're Expecting a Victory."

Joining in the all-school play, sophs and juniors—Herb Bittick, Marc Stern, Chris Perez, Randi Lammering—rehearse with a pet monkey.

Sophs peddle pens, polish cars in class projects

Emerging from their green years, 315 students re-entered HHS for their second year of high school.

Sophomores sold pens for their main money-raising class project. The pens cost 50¢ and carried the varsity basketball schedule on them. Other class projects included car washes in the spring.

Choosing Josten Co. as the jeweler for class rings, the class of '71 voted on the style, ordered rings, then awaited the rings' arrival in the first week of March. Majority ordered the college oval.

"We're Expecting an HHS Victory" titled the sophs' homecoming float. Featuring a baby crib with alphabet blocks and stuffed animals, the float copped second place.

Sophomores nominated class officers and chose their house representatives in the fall. The reps collected class dues to build up the class treasury in anticipation of the junior class prom.

306 freshmen stake claims in Wildcat territory

Three-hundred-six ninth graders entered HHS freshman country in the fall. Although forced to cope with new problems such as finding right rooms, getting locks to open and buying locker insurance and elevator passes from upperclassmen, class of '72 members managed to survive their Wildcat initiation.

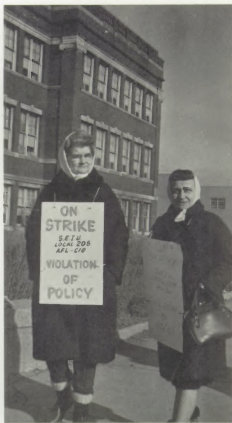

Freshmen gathered in auditorium Aug. 30 for orientation, where they got their first taste of HHS life. Dean Mr. Ted Fruehling explained rules and regulations. They then posed for identification pictures.

Frosh first combined forces to build a float for homecoming. Their work, entitled "We're Betting on a Wildcat Victory," placed fourth.

Nominations for class officers took place in late October. Freshmen got to meet the election victors at their class Halloween party Oct. 31. The class of '72 also experienced balloting for its house representatives and its senators.

Cafeteria workers—FRONT ROW: Mrs. Margaret Kokinda, Mrs. Isabel Adoba, Mrs. Dorothy Berdine. ROW TWO: Mrs. Marion Dobrzynski, Mrs. Mary Ellen Watwood, Mrs. Pearl Swearingen, Mrs. Mary Ann Littrell.

Joining city school custodians in disputing contract fulfillment, Mrs. Geneva Wickar and Mrs. Florence Stiglitz picket HHS.

Strike by janitors chills building, closes school

Blaming policy violations by city school administrators, Hammond custodians struck Hammond schools March 13 and 14. Since most schools, including HHS, lacked heat, they closed. Custodial union officers settled differences with the school board March 15.

Returning to the normal schedule of two lunch hours, cafeteria workers satisfied hunger pangs of student customers in two hot lunch lines and a sandwich line. Teachers chose their midday meals from the cafeteria's setup in room 1.

Secretarial staff performed an array of needed tasks. Two manned the main office; one the administrative office, one the guidance office and one the bookstore.

Secretarial staff—Mrs. Maxine Hensley, Mrs. Joan Pawenski, Mrs. Devon Vance.

As a result of a car-train accident Dec. 17, Mr. John Nichols, business teacher, bookstore supervisor and Folk 15 sponsor, died Dec. 18.

Problems, crises, tragedy beset school leaders

School year 1968-69 challenged the school board, administration and teachers with a procession of problems, crises and even tragedy.

Even the first day of school in September was in doubt as the school board and Hammond Teachers Assn. carried on marathon negotiation sessions to settle on the terms of the contract between the school city and HTA, elected sole teacher bargaining agent in 1968.

Tragedy dimmed HHS's pre-holiday festivities when Mr. John Nichols, business teacher, died Dec. 18. A train had hit his car at the Highland St. tracks Dec. 17.

Winter's Hong Kong flu epidemic took its toll in teacher absentees. Hospitalization of seven teachers during the year also helped to lengthen the faculty absence list.

HHS lost another teacher when English teacher Mrs. Vera Erickson was transferred to Morton to fill a vacancy there second semester.

While the school board and city administration searched for ways to whack millions from the 1969 school city budget in order to meet the legal limit, Hammond teachers joined their colleagues from throughout Indiana in a "Save Our Schools" campaign. They observed a work stoppage called March 7 by the Indiana State Teachers Assn. This stoppage protested the failure of Gov. Edgar Whitcomb and the state legislature to appropriate enough money for the state's educational needs.

Eleven Hammond High teachers, some of them carrying signs in front of Irving school while Cavit faculty carried signs at HHS, observed the ISTA work stoppage. However, 54 teachers and 800 of about 1200 students reported to school that day. Therefore HHS was the only one of the 28 schools in Hammond to remain in operation.

In decisions affecting HHS, the school board voted to merge HHS and Clark and to repair fire damage.

Despite concerted HHS opposition, voiced through petition and strife-riddled public meetings, the board approved the school merger by a 3-2 vote Dec. 2. Merger opponents based their stand not so much on the merger as on a proposed site at Costlin St. and Columbia Ave. They also asked the fate of the old HHS building.

Later the board approved a face-lifting for HHS after repeated HHS administrative requests, student petitions and Herald photographs.

Workmen then entered the building to apply plaster, paint and ceiling tile to rooms and halls scarred by the December '67 fire.

On the lighter side, the faculty welcomed newcomers at its annual autumn picnic at a Cook County forest preserve shelter. The teachers honored their veteran colleagues at the traditional retirement banquet in the spring.

HHS followers from the 40's and 50's as well as the present joined forces Jan. 23 to honor Mr. Bob King, former basketball coach. During his years at the Cat cage helm, he and his teams captured a string of sectional and regional championship trophies for HHS.

Girls athletic teams challenge regional schools

Competing with region schools, Girls Athletic Assn. took part in an interscholastic sports program.

Club organized three teams for interscholastic competition: basketball, field hockey and track.

Field hockey team recorded a 1-0-1 slate. Bad weather caused cancellation of two games. Ending season with a 36-34 overtime loss to Portage, basketball team posted a 3-1 record. Tracksters ran in District I meet in April. Winners entered state meet in May.

GAA officers attended the fall leadership camp at North Webster's Epworth Forest in October.

GAA president Nancy Brauer merited a wall plaque, GAA's highest award, at a GAA banquet in April.

GAA basketball—FRONT ROW: Ann Palkovich, Barb Siwy, Amanda Pleitner, Debbie Mitchell. ROW TWO: Nancy Brauer, Leora Duncanson, Paula Jarnecke, Roxann Lahey.

Candy sale, "Ugly Man" contest and bus charters composed year's activities for the Top Kat Club.

Clubbers conducted boxed candy sale in the fall. With profits they chartered buses to away football and basketball games including trips to Indianapolis and Lafayette. Members also sold goodies to gridiron fans at concession stands.

Top Kats netted $75 on their annual "Ugly Man" contest Jan. 31. With one cent counting as one vote, HHS'ers elected science teacher Mr. Charles Sizemore the winner. Club president Ruby Clarke announced the results during halftime of the HHS-Morton basketball game.

Because of its large size, club alternated its meetings between upperclassmen and underclassmen.

Varsity cheerleaders—Miss Anna Moriconi, sponsor; Pam Miles, Denise Dorsey, captain; Linda Bracken, Willie; Claudia Mayes, Dawn Chartos.

Yell girls incite spirit with signs, 'socks,' bloc

Inciting school spirit, varsity and B team cheerleaders made signs, sold "Sock it to 'Em, Wildcats" buttons and formed the cheering bloc.

Learning new cheers, chants and formations, varsity cheerleaders attended a cheering camp at Indiana State U. July 21-26. Competing in cheerleading division at state fair, squad won first place.

Boosting grid team's morale, the girls posted pre-game "Home of a Wildcat" signs on players' doors.

Money raising events included four bake sales, two summer car washes and a stuffed animal raffle.

Lauding football players for season efforts, Denise Dorsey presents an appreciation cake on behalf of the cheerleaders.

Plowman, Terry Parsons, Robert Wardlow, John House, Mike Kozlowski, Mr. Robert Nicholson, coach.

After rehearsing his high jumping event, Bob Eckstein gazes out from the sidelines.

Streaking across the finish line, sophomore Gregg Lamb ends his run in the quarter-mile.

Cindermen capture city crown, set five records

In the 16-team Northwest Conference, the Wildcat tracksters placed seventh to complete the 1968 season with a record of 52 wins, 17 losses.

Cindermen won the Hammond meet at Gavit by defeating defending champs Gavit Gladiators May 14.

Indoor wins included the 23rd straight city meet, third consecutive conference meet and the Munster relays for an 18-0 record.

HHS established two school records. Dave Schmueser set 440-yd. dash record. Keith Speaks broke the soph 60-yd. high hurdles mark.

Relay team of Timm Lamb, Corey Pearson, Stu Waite and Barry Wright set an HHS record of 3:27.1; and Roland Parrish and Bob Wilhelm broke school records in the mile run and shot put.

Sluggers conclude '68 term with 12-5-1 mark

Taking his turn at home plate, third baseman Glenn Earl braces himself for next pitch.

Wildcat baseball team concluded the 1968 season with a 3-2 loss to Clark in the state sectional.

Team posted a 12-5-1 overall record and earned a 9-5 conference slate for second place in league.

Pitcher Rick Ford struck out six and Chuck Mauder slammed a three-run homer in leading HHS to a 9-7 opening game win over Calumet.

Hardballers defeated Bishop Noll 8-7 and Munster 4-2 before falling at the hands of Gary Wallace 8-4.

Batters got back on the winning track against East Chicago Washington 5-2, and Tech 3-2. Ford outdueled Tech's Gary Ridgley and Mauder slugged his second homer in pacing the Wildcat victory.

Team then bowed to East Chicago Roosevelt 2-1 and Whiting 8-5.

Cats gained momentum and romped over Morton 9-1, Clark 5-3 and Gavit 3-2. Washington ended that skein by downing the Wildcats 3-2.

Wins over Tech 7-0 and ECR 8-7 preceded a 9-1 loss to Whiting.

Wildcat hardballers downed Morton 8-4 and tied Gavit 4-4 before bowing to East Chicago Roosevelt in the conference playoff.

1968 linksmen post 14-8 tally under new coach

With Mr. Paul Bingaman coaching his first year, golf team finished the season with an overall slate of 14 wins and six losses. They posted an 8-5 conference tally.

Competing against 28 other teams in the Dyer invitational tournament at Lake Hills May 3, Wildcat linksmen came in 10th place.

In sectional play, golfers came in seventh place. They came in third in the Hammond city meet.

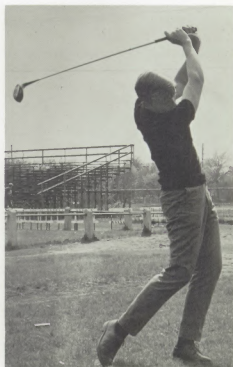

At spring sports banquet, Mr. Bingaman named sophomore Tom Murray most valuable golfer and Ted Sikora captain of the 1969 team.

Blasting the ball out of the sand trap, Ted Sikora escapes with pitching wedge.

Soccer joins Hammond roster of spring sports

As a Clarkster battles with John Aranowski (59), Mike Smith (60) gains control of the ball.

Joining the other four Hammond public high schools in initiating the sport, HHS fielded its first soccer team in the spring of 1968.

Coached by Mr. Frank Carroll, Cats posted a 5-1 slate. Season's close saw HHS gain the city crown by whipping Clark 2-0 in a playoff.

Soccer entered the city sports roster on an intermural basis with varsity status as the eventual aim. The schools added the playoff to encourage greater interest.

John Aranowski with four goals, one assist; Neal Kitchell with two goals, one assist; Darrell Dippon with two goals took scoring honors for the newest Wildcat aggregation.

B team dribblers launch season in Indianapolis

B team basketball team ended the season with a slate of 5-16.

Playing its initial game in Nap-town, team lost to Indianapolis Washington 46-22 Nov. 29. After losing five straight games to Munster, Lafayette Jeff, Gary Roosevelt, Michigan City and Valpo, Cats relished their first win by beating Clark 54-53 in Tech holiday tourney. They then beat Noll 65-52 and earned the right to play Tech for the championship. However, Tigers dumped Cats 43-32.

Going into the new year with a record of 2-7, the squad tallied three consecutive victories over Hobart, Gary Froebel and Clark. The B Wildcats then fell into a late-season slump when they lost the schedule's final nine games.

Outleaping teammate Rudy Sparks and Governor opponents, top scorer Roy Lee McPipe garners a rebound in a one-point HHS overtime loss.

Spurring Cats on to narrow the scoreboard gap, coach Mr. Hugh Dawson disputes a call.

Rugged foes fortify Wildcats for .600 record after opening losses

After losing their initial six games to powerhouse teams, coach Mr. Hugh Dawson's Wildcat cagers fought back to end the basketball season with a 9-12 slate.

Slate for their last 15 games stood at 9-6. Cats lost these six games by six points or fewer.

Team opened the season Nov. 29 by losing 102-57 to the 1969 state champs, Indianapolis Washington.

HHS hosted sectional champs Munster Dec. 6 for the first time in regular cage season and lost 61-43.

Cats traveled to state-rated Lafayette Jeff Dec. 7 and fell 80-53. Gary Roosevelt, 1968 state champs, took home a 77-54 victory Dec. 13 followed by a 89-69 Michigan City win Dec. 14. A 74-70 loss to Valpo Dec. 20 ended losing streak.

Roundballers chalked up their first victory Dec. 30 in the HHS holiday tourney. Beating Griffith 67-55, they advanced to the title game, losing to Crown Point 74-73.

Cats started 1969 with consecutive wins over Hobart, Froebel and Clark. They lost to Andrean, beat Whiting and followed with two losses: one to EC Washington and one to Morton in overtime.

Arch-rival Hammond Tech succumbed to the hands of Dawson's dribblers 58-48 Feb. 7. Cats conquered Gavitt the following night.

Giving sixth-rated EC Roosevelt a scare, Wildcats pushed the game into overtime only to lose 53-51.

Cagers ended regular season by squeaking past Noll 74-72 Feb. 21.

Wildcats gained recognition as the ninth-rated team in the Hammond Times' final area standings.

Paired with Munster in sectional, dribblers lost 66-63 Feb. 26.

Times unanimously elected Roy Lee McPipe to its all-star team. Coach Dawson awarded Glenn Earl and Roy Lee McPipe most valuable defense and offense trophies.

B team's record included one forfeit from Whiting Sept. 21.

Freshman victories included two forfeits. They opened the season Sept. 12 with a scoreless tie against Bishop Noll. The squad succeeded in winning eight consecutive games against Whiting, East Chicago Roosevelt, Thornton, Tech, Tech B team, Clark, East Chicago Washington and Gavit.

Their winning streak came to a halt when they fell victim to the Morton Governors 6-0 Oct. 31.

Statistically, the frosh scored a total of 153 points while yielding only 37 points to opponents.

Wildcat gridders compile 6-3-1 slate, capture city championship

Varsity football team compiled a record of six wins, three losses and one tie. Cats finished second in the new Tri-city football league with a 4-2-1 record. They also reigned as city champs.

Region football season opened with two perennial powers, East Chicago Roosevelt and EC Washington, forfeiting two games each because of a strike by EC teachers.

After settlement of the East Chicago teachers strike, local sports-writers favored Hammond High to capture the Tri-city grid title.

However, in its first game in three weeks, Roosevelt handed HHS a 28-20 loss. This loss marked HHS's first of the 1968 season.

HHS had opened the season with a 27-0 victory over Kokomo. On the basis of this win, the first Associated Press grid poll ranked the Wildcats sixth in the state.

Next the Cats defeated Noll 13-7 and Whiting 6-0 to put HHS eighth in the AP state poll and third in the Hammond Times' local poll.

After the ECR loss, HHS came back to spoil Tech's 50th anniversary homecoming game by pulling out a 27-7 fourth quarter victory.

Defeating Gavit 13-7, HHS moved into a three-way conference leadership tie with East Chicago teams.

Cats fell into second place in the league by settling for an 0-0 tie with Morton. A 19-14 loss to Illinois's strong TF North team concluded the season for HHS.

Throughout the season defense shone as HHS's long suit. Against Kokomo, for example, defense captured five opposition fumbles and intercepted two passes as it dug in to hold Kokomo to 87 yards.

Offensively the combination of quarterback Don Petska's passing and Glenn Earl's catching totalled up mileage for Hammond High.

Netmen defend fourth straight conference crown

Wildcat netmen successfully defended their conference title for the fourth consecutive year with a 9-0 overall and a league mark of 8-0.

Senior Thom Kramer and sophomore Richard Kitchell led the team in singles by going undefeated. Junior Bob Eckstein lost only once.

Doubles team of senior Bill McHie and junior Stan Levin went undefeated in conference competition while losing only one match.

Sophomores Dave Waechter and Bill Stuart finished the season with an unblemished record in doubles.

In sectional competition, no Wildcat went beyond the semi-final.

During the season, the team shut out all opponents with a 5-0 score except for Munster and Gavit. In those meets scores registered 4-1.

Lettermen sponsored their first soc hop of the season following the Sept. 6 HHS-Kokomo football encounter. During basketball season they sponsored dances after the Munster game Dec. 6 and the Bishop Noll contest Feb. 21. Last soc hop featured "The Enchanters."

Earnings paid for jackets, windbreakers, sweatshirts, weights and Nutrament for calorie counters.

Letter winners picnicked at the dunes in May for year's finale.

Stage strikes interests of dramatists, crewmen

Charles Schultz' Peanuts people came to life on the stage as Dramatics Club members saw "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" at the Chicago Civic Theater in April.

Club sponsored a soc hop, "The Spirit of '68," at Civic Center Dec. 13, to commemorate the first anniversary of the HHS fire. In a March auditorium, dramatists presented to student body a one-act play entitled "The Simple Truth."

During club meetings, members accumulated points by giving play reviews, serving on school play committees or acting in plays.

Working as behind-the-scenesmen during auditorium sessions, concerts and school plays, stage crew adjusted lights, worked PA system and curtains, and painted and set up scenery. Serving as stage managers for two major and four minor productions, crewmen earned letters.

Students gyrated at the stage crew-sponsored soc hop Oct. 11.

Stage crewmen Choi Wong and Jack Cotton paint backdrops for "Inherit the Wind" while Ray Wagner gauges cardboard prop.

Artists found appreciation week, tour galleries

In an Expanded Arts Club session, sponsor Mr. Ray Ball shares his views with members.

Touring Chicago art museums, making Christmas decorations and putting on zodiac-themed soc hop and art appreciation week filled the year for Expanded Arts Club.

Visiting the Chicago Art Institute, Museum of Contemporary Art, the Richard Feigen Gallery and Institute of Design Nov. 15, club members viewed works by Chicagoland as well as international artists.

Large panels depicting the three Spirits of Christmas on the main landing and a showcase display of a busy London at Christmastime in the early 1800's formed part of the "Christmas Carol" ornaments constructed by both art classes and Expanded Art Club members.

Members sponsored a soc hop using signs of the zodiac as theme in the school's hallways March 21.

During early May the Expanded Arts Club sponsored the first art appreciation week. Purpose was to better students' understanding of art and its contributions to today.

Lecturing at auditorium session during art appreciation week, Mr. Peter Carr of Ball State University told HHS'ers about pottery.

Herald spotlights personalities, accomplishments

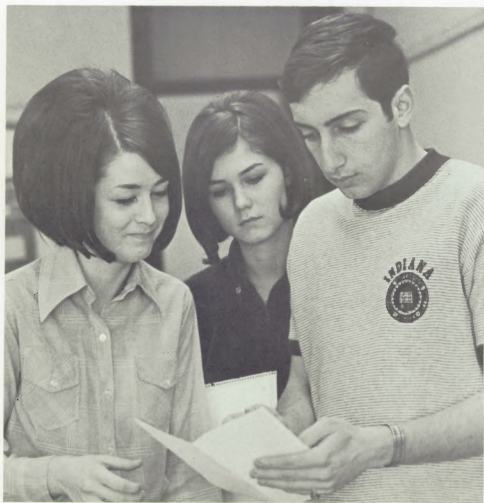

Covering school news, Herald published 17 bi-weekly papers. Feature series included history of HHS extracurricular honors and job descriptions of faculty, staff.

In seeking suggestions for improvement, the staff submitted its work for national ratings from National Scholastic Press Assn. and Columbia Scholastic Press Assn. NSPA rated the Herald first class on its spring '68 as well as fall '68 issues. In both cases the paper came close to NSPA's highest ranking, that of All-American.

Preparing for the school year, editor Dean Leonakis and business manager Diana Rubright attended the two-week Indiana U high school journalism institute in summer. Staffers went to the Northern Indiana Journalism Seminar in April.

With previous issues papering the wall, Tom Borbely, sports editor; Dennis Papp, production manager; finish typing a story.

Checking carbon copies of pages, Kathy Kaminski and Marie Schiltz compile the index.

Staff uses 'Kaleidoscope' to tell history of 1969

Sharing pica rulers, searching for synonyms from Roget, staging parties on almost any pretext, Dunes staff strove to tell '69's story through a 'Kaleidoscope' theme.

Yearbook planning began in spring of '68 with staff, then theme selection. During the summer, staffers planned the book. Editor Patsy Kaply worked at Indiana U.; while Bonnie Frevert, Leanne Hoagland, Joanne Keeler and Monica Leeney studied at Ball State U.

Autumn brought news that the 1968 Dunes had earned an All-American rating from National Scholastic Press Assn. This marked the first time in recent years for the Dunes to rank that high.

With the '68 Dunes rating to live up to, the staff developed its theme by trying the innovation of going beyond the school's walls to show diversity among HHS'ers.

Staff and adviser Miss Judy Richter reached a mid-April deadline.

Band parades in new uniforms; travels; stages concerts, sales

Band members received new uniforms, sold candy, sponsored a dance, took field trips and performed in concerts during year.

In November bandmen purchased new uniforms to replace those destroyed in the Dec. 13, 1967, fire. Downtown Hammond Christmas parade Nov. 30 marked the first appearance in the uniforms.

Instrumental music program expanded this year with addition of beginner and intermediate bands. Membership in these bands preluded entrance into the concert band.

Band played at Christmas concert Dec. 10, spring concert in April and Kiwanis Club luncheon May 1. It also visited Hammond middle schools in the spring, to give prospective high school students samplings of the HHS band program.

To finance trips and contest, band undertook two fund-raising projects. Candy sale in September netted $1100. Band also sponsored a soc hop Jan. 31, replacing the group's annual fun festival.

Musicians ventured to Chicago twice during year. They attended the Midwest Band Clinic at the Sherman House Dec. 18 and banqueted at the Martiniique in May.

Bandmen participated in three contests: district solo contest Jan. 25, state solo contest in Indianapolis Feb. 15 and the state band contest at Goshen in April.

While resolving vector into a sum linear combination of its perpendicular and parallel components, math analyst Joe Rogers receives quizzical look from Mr. Wayne Pecher.

Geometrist Ted Koski holds dissectible cone while Debbie Stevens demonstrates ways in which a circle can intersect it.

Mathematicians explore field in four sequences

Stocked with pencils and paper, math classes set out to cipher problems from fractions to functions.

Department offered four sequences for HHS'ers to follow: basic, general, college preparatory and UICSM (University of Illinois Committee on School Mathematics).

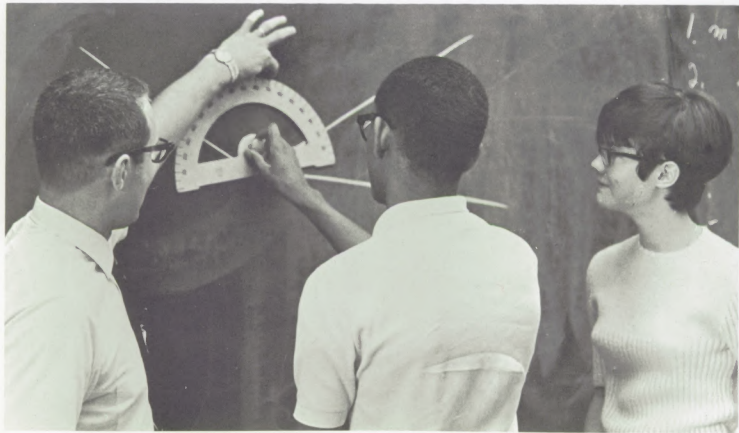

Each sequence, structured according to students' needs, interests and abilities; provided classes with different goals and experiences. Courses were flexible so as to enable a student to transfer easily from one sequence to another.

Basic math pupils perfected skills acquired in middle school. General mathematicians solved problems dealing with practical experiences they will face in the future. College prep course included algebra, geometry, trigonometry and math analysis. UICSM wizards used inquisitive approach to problem solving.

Playing Yahtzee gives Thelma Ford and Diane O'Neal experience in dealing with numbers.

As math teacher Mr. Don Clark and UICSM student Roland Parrish measure an angle, soph Nancy Conway pays close attention to see how it's done.

Dialogues, European magazines occupy studies

Testing for IU honors program, composing dialogues for conversations and reading European magazines busied foreign linguists.

In addition to four-year French, German, Latin and Spanish courses, the language department extended Russian studies to four years.

Through films, linguists learned the cultures and customs of their studied lands. Third and fourth year Gallics read Paris Match.

Second-year Deutschlanders presented dialogues on current events.

Studying the language of the old Mediterranean, Romans read orations by Cicero and poetry by Ovid.

Passing preliminary exams, one

French and one German student qualified to compete in the Indiana U. foreign language honors program. Program provided students with a two-month summer study in their respective countries. Mr. Thomas Schwartz, German teacher, taught for the program in Krefeld, Germany.

Coaching French I students Sylvia Sang and Bruce Cegur, Miss Anna Moriconi serves as overseer as Sylvia and Bruce enact an introduction.

Holding earphone in place, soph Pam Lovatt gives ear to a practice recording in order to improve her syllabic intonations in French 4.

Mounting German paraphernalia, Tom Paliga and Marianne Lentz organize the bulletin board.

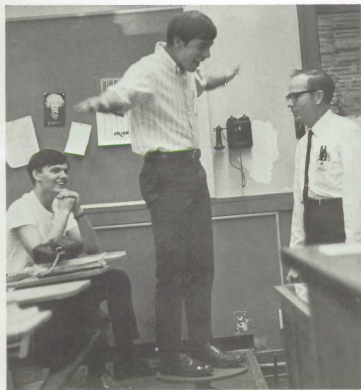

Scanning a Mexican newspaper, soph Spanish student Lynn Felder expands her vocabulary.

Adding water to a mixture of powdered iodine and aluminum causes purple smoke, discover chemists Tom Borbely and Mr. Charles Sizemore.

Instructing Sam Klam on the use of the spinning table in psychology, Mr. Lawrence Lundgren examines his student for schizophrenia.

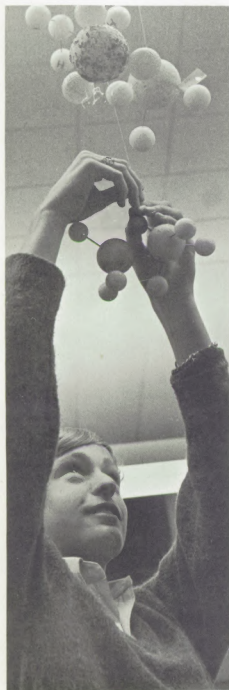

As classmates Nancy Farmer, Ed Franiak and Mr. Lundgren enjoy the performance, Sam proves himself rational by displaying dizziness.

Psychologists probe patterns of human behavior

In basic science class, Jeff Barks suspends models of primitive atmospheric molecules.

Mind study, lectures, lab experiments and skeletal construction busied budding scientists.

Because of student requests, science department offered psychology to juniors and seniors. Classes discussed human behavior, mental illness and mental growth.

Tinkering with test tubes, chemistry students experimented in the lab and studied chemical reactions. Mr. Alan Carlson, head of chemical technology department at Purdue Calumet Campus, talked to classes about chemistry careers Feb. 20.

Department added $200 worth of new slides to biology division for research on plants and other forms of life. Outside of class, biologists reconstructed a cat skeleton.

Patrolman Edward Klapak of the Hammond traffic division lectured health and safety classes on radar control and alcohol detectors.

Peering at blood sample in Biology III, John Perkins counts number of white blood cells.

Social studies introduces Afro-American history

New Afro-American history course, field trip to Chicago movie and guest political speakers sparked the social studies department.

As a result of a petition passed around by students, department offered a six-week course in Afro-American history from March 3 to May 2. Faculty members Mr. Frank Carroll and Mr. Charles Kennedy taught the class in seminar form, using paperback books, filmstrips, movies and slides as aids. Class lasted from 7:30 to 8:20 a.m. However, department hoped to coordinate it with world history next year.

Mr. Mark Pantan's US history classes journeyed to Chicago Dec. 6 to see movie "2001: Space Odyssey." Juniors also made electoral college maps showing the returns of the 1968 Presidential election.

Government classes focused attention on the 1968 elections.

Mr. Donald Taylor, Republican candidate for US House of Representatives, addressed the first period government classes in September. Incumbent representative Ray Madden, state senator Paul Stanish, US district court law clerk John Harrington and Lake County deputy prosecutor Raymond Stefana also talked to the classes.

Mr. Pantan's government class, assisted by city clerk Mr. Stanley Kulik, toured the city hall.

Before speaking to government classes about court procedure, Mr. John Harrington, district court clerk, confers with Miss Emily Johnson.

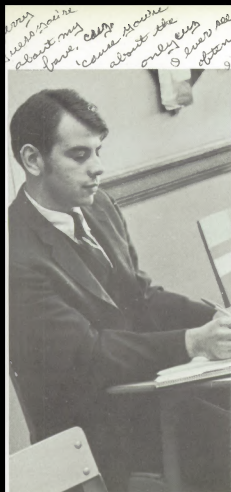

Confronted with a question in world history, soph Brad Heath ponders his answer.

Reviewing geography test, Mr. John Wonsowitz interprets correct answers for Cynthia Collins.

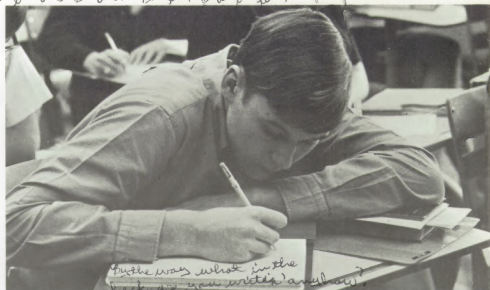

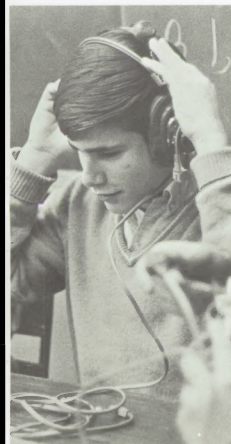

While passing back test results to his US History I class, Mr. William Strater clears up any questions or problems proposed on the test.

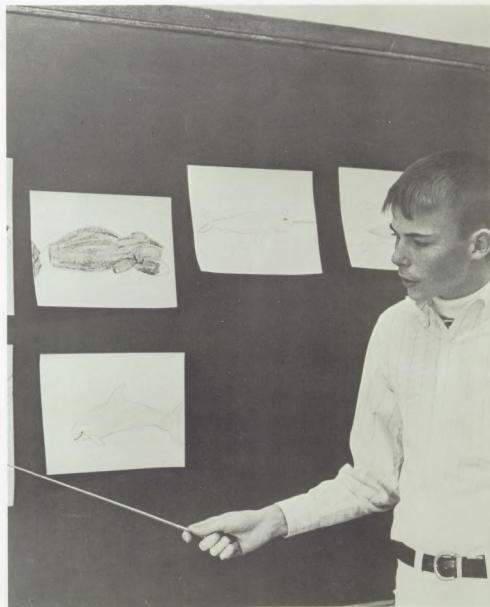

Working as a student teacher, Mr. Glen Gambel audits Lit 8 Shakespeare speeches.

After a debate recorded by four classmates, Don Creasbaum adjusts headset to listen in.

Speech 1, Journalism 1 substitute for English 4

Outside research results in Tom Fisher's English 'lit account of Shaw's life and writings.

English department offered the options of journalism or speech instead of English 4 to sophomores with an A or B English average.

Heretofore the department had offered these courses only as electives. Now the sophomores could substitute the speech or journalism as credit toward graduation.

Seniors in Mrs. Margaret Mertens' English lit class trekked to Chicago in March to see the stage production of "Hamlet" at Studebaker theater. Students discussed "MacBeth," and "Pygmalion."

Armed with pens and cards, Comp 5 and 7'ers tackled term papers. Department did not offer Comp 8 because of a shortage of teachers.

English 3 orators practiced public speaking. Librarians lectured freshmen on proper library use. Frosh also tasted samplings of drama, classical mythology and novels.

Field tripping to Chicago in February, journalists toured the S.K. Smith Co., which made the Dunes covers; and the Chicago Tribune.

Summer school opens doors for 696 students

Fire-marred walls contrast with gleaming floors buffed by Mr. Carl Baasse in room 209.

Hammond High's 49th summer school program unfolded opportunities for 696 enterprising students. Pupils from Gavit, Tech, Bishop Noll and Highland high schools joined Hammond High students in making up necessary courses, getting extra credits or learning how to drive.

Eight-week session began June 11 and concluded Aug. 7. First four-week grading period ended July 10. Students took final exams Aug. 6.

Enrollment decreased seven per cent from 1967's total of 750. Due to this reduction, the program omitted developmental reading.

Twenty-six Hammond High faculty members accompanied by seven teachers from neighboring junior high and high schools taught academic and driver education classes.

Aided by dual-controlled cars furnished by Frank Shaver Pontiac of Hammond, 231 driving trainees acquired safe on-the-road skills.

Pondering DNA structure in Biology I, Nicki Darnell probes answer to a secret of life.

Academics

Listening to language lab tapes, compounding chemicals, plotting graph points, tapping typewriter keys, drawing maps and stitching outfits, HHS'ers patterned a kaleidoscope of academics. New psychology and Afro-American courses phased into the curriculum.

Regardless of which course they followed—college preparatory, business or general—students endeavored to fathom the concepts put before them.

IU language honors participants—Penny Phillips, Mr. Tom Schwartz, Alison Blaine.

Olga M. Schubkegel art award winner—Michelle Slupski.

Student accomplishments bring honors to HHS

"It's Academic" team—Gus Hawkins, Terry Taylor, Charles Haley.

Receiving scholarships, awards and honors, HHS students accumulated a spectrum of achievements.

After taking NMSQT test, senior Doug Dodge qualified as a National Merit scholarship finalist. Jim Agler, Charles Haley, Gus Hawkins, David Quick and Terry Taylor won letters of commendation. Charles, Gus and Terry represented HHS on NBC's "It's Academic."

In association with IU foreign language honors program, Alison Blaine and Penny Phillips studied in Europe during the '69 summer. German teacher Mr. Tom Schwartz accompanied students in Germany.

Hammond Times acknowledged Herald editor-in-chief Dean Leonakis as HHS's outstanding journalist.

Instrumentalist Joanne Masepohl merited the Arion award for her outstanding bandsmanship. Arion replaced John Philip Sousa award.

Commencement finalizes HHS years for '68ers

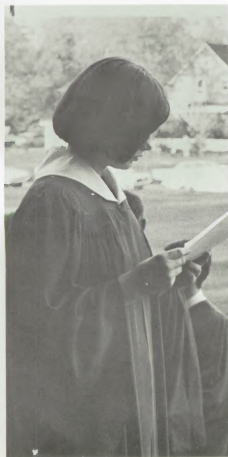

Completing their four-year sojourn at Hammond High, 335 seniors participated in traditional graduation activities beginning June 2.

Baccalaureate June 2 united grads to hear the Rev. Lynn Smith of First Church of God deliver a sermon, "Your Dreams—'68 to '98."

"The Year That Was" themed the senior-faculty banquet June 3 at Teibel's. Association president Rocky Reeder emceed the dinner.

Sniffles and sighs resounded through Civic Center halls following commencement June 5. Mr. R. B. Miller, former Hammond school superintendent, advised grads on "How to Lead a Colorful Life." Class sponsors Mrs. Vera Erickson and Mr. Dennis Burdock assisted in distributing diplomas. Grads wore blue caps, gowns instead of gray.

Waiting to perform with combined choirs, soph Linda Bane peruses graduation list.

Recalling HHS days, Marilyn Henderson and Dave Jakush quell precommencement butterflies.

Carbed in caps and gowns, '68 grads await sheepskins and listen to speaker R. B. Miller.

'A Midsummer Night's Dream' headlines prom

William Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" themed the 1968 version of the prom.

For the first time in Hammond High's history, promsters gathered at Scherwood Club in Schererville May 31 in place of the traditional festivities at Civic Center.

Juniors hired Buddy Pressner and his orchestra to furnish the couples' dance music for the evening.

Highlighting the prom, gowned and tuxedoed junior and senior class officers led the grand march.

Decoration committee chairman Peggy Carlson and co-chairmen Rita Lambros and Kathy Kamm supervised the decorating May 29-31.

Clean up committee took over June 1 after the festivities.

Woodmar Country Club served as meeting place for the post-prom party-goers. From 12-3 a.m. Apocryphals entertained the late-nighters.

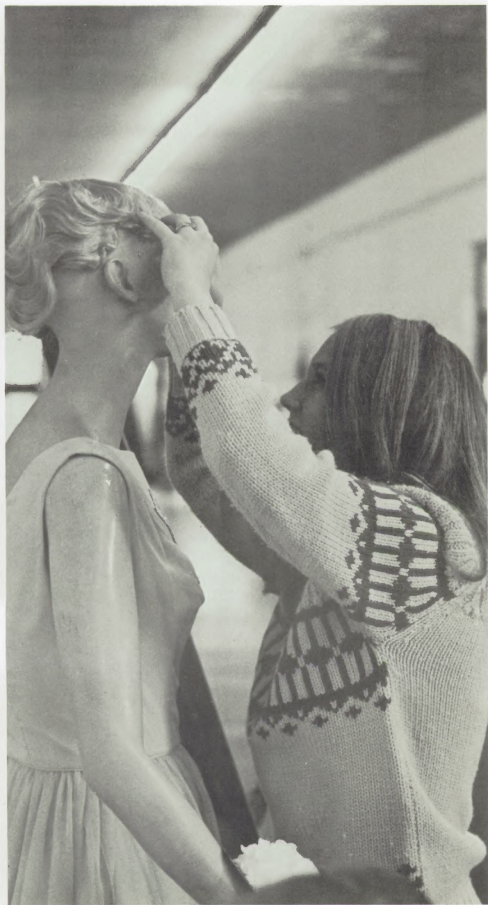

Acting as leads for other couples, junior and senior class officers head the grand march.

While whirling and swirling around the floor, couples dance at the '68 junior-senior prom.

West Lafayette, HHS exchange school leaders

Exchange program, movie turn-about, semi-formal and school picnic led Association's student activities.

HHS participated in a student exchange program with West Lafayette High School in February. Wildcats hosted four WLHS'ers who observed HHS's system and activities. Next four HHS'ers visited WLHS.

Girls asked their favorite boys to a movie turnabout March 7, featuring "Two Tars," a Laurel and Hardy comedy; and "The Raven." "Autumn Adagio" themed Association-sponsored semi-formal Nov. 9.

For the first time, Association sponsored an all-school picnic. Students aggregated at the Dunes State Park in May for the event.

Promoting purple spirit, Joe Rogers peddles Association license plates to Connie Tramm and Joyce Kontol during halftime of a Civic Center basketball game.

Costuming mannequin in semi-formal attire, Diana Rubright publicizes "Autumn Adagio."

Parent groups join offspring in boosting efforts

Parent - Teacher Assn., Adult Booster Club and Band Parents helped to boost Hammond High.

Adult Boosters netted $1497 by sponsoring three summer dances at Munster Lanes. The last dance in August drew a record 798 teens.

Profits from these dances financed sports banquets at Teibel's after fall, winter and spring seasons. They also provided vests and flasher cards for the cheering bloc.

After cancellation of a theater party in January, PTA staged a get-together starting with a chili and hot dog supper in the cafeteria Feb. 28. Next came a bake sale, soc hop in the lower north hall and card games in the girls' gym.

Scholarship fund and post-prom party benefitted from this event.

Band Parents Assn. gave a post-game soc hop Jan. 31. Mothers helped to outfit bandsmen with new uniforms that arrived in November.

Recording merger remarks, Hammond Times reporter Marilyn Hehr and WJOB's Cosmo Currier interview PTA building committeeman Mr. Steve Kicho at the Nov. 26 school board discussion.

Going for seconds, Roy Lee McPipe enjoys fare typical of Adult Booster banquets.

Posted at the front door of Civic Center, band parents Mrs. Steve Kicho and Mr. John Meggers take tickets from onrushing soc-hop-goers after the Morton cage game Jan. 31.

Senior class enacts comedy, 'The Family Man'

Expounding on the importance of the money, Vincent Blair (David Quick) urges his sister, Ellen Cahill (Peggy Carlson), to accept her husband's prize for homemaker of the year.

Members of the senior class enacted the comedy "The Family Man" in the HHS auditorium March 28.

Because of inadequate response from seniors, two freshmen and seven sophomores appeared in play.

Comedy, authored by B. B. Zavlin and Carl Leo, concerned the Cahill family's problems when Mr. Cahill (Dennis Shoup) broke his leg while playing ball. Ordered to a six-month rest, Mr. Cahill tended to the domestic chores while Mrs. Cahill (Peggy Carlson) went to work. Complications arose when Mr. Cahill became homemaker of the year.

Miss Oza Cunningham directed the production. The stage crew constructed settings and handled the lighting, while costume, property, publicity and ticket committees lent their efforts. Dramatics Club members applied makeup.

Intently observing courtroom procedure, judge (Michael Kozlowski) hears defense attorney Henry Drummond (Dennis Shoup) question prosecuting lawyer Matthew Harrison Brady (Joe Duba) about the Bible.

Through the all-school play, "Inherit the Wind" Nov. 22, students dramatized the 11-day trial of biology teacher John Scopes.

Written by Robert E. Lee and Jerome Lawrence, the play re-enacts the famous "monkey trial" of 1925 in Hillsboro, Tenn. Bert Gates (Scopes' fictitious name) stood trial for teaching Darwin's theory of evolution instead of the seven-day creation philosophy given in the book of Genesis. Matthew Harrison Brady (in the real trial William Jennings Bryan) proved Gates guilty despite the fight given by defense attorney Henry Drummond (in real life Clarence Darrow).

Under the direction of Miss Oza Cunningham, the cast, which consisted of 48 students and a small monkey, practiced nightly for five weeks before presenting the play.

Volunteer HHS'ers sold tickets, made costumes, created posters and ushered. Dramatics Club applied makeup. Art department constructed backdrops.

With a worm as an object lesson, Michael Nance explains the theory of evolution.

DC, NYC journey attracts 77 upperclassmen

Seventy-seven juniors and seniors, accompanied by four faculty members, journeyed with 375 other Hammondites by rail to Washington and New York Oct. 22-28.

Aboard the train, Wildcats participated in songfests, pillow fights, card games, a pep session and dances in the train's aisles.

After arriving at the Hotel Harrington in Washington; trippers viewed Library of Congress, three presidential memorials, National Art Gallery and a wax museum. Following day they visited the White House and the Capitol Building.

In New York City HHS journeyers toured the United Nations Building, Statue of Liberty, Radio City Music Hall and Greenwich Village.

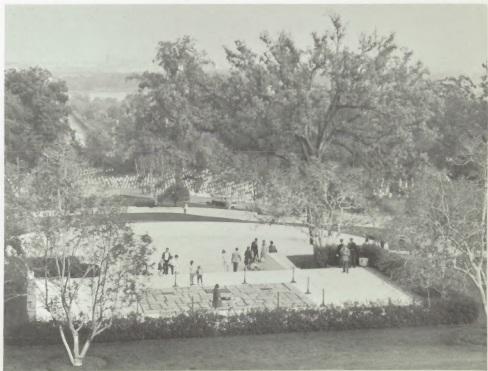

Swaying with a record player and the train, Barb Kurzydym and Jackie Perez dance home.

Trying to make up for sleepless nights in the hotels, Sally Rogan snatches some shut-eye.

In Arlington National Cemetery, the John and Robert Kennedy gravesites attract tourists.

Fireworks fascinate fans during homecoming halftime ceremonies

Multi-colored fireworks lightened the skies to conclude halftime festivities at homecoming Sept. 27.

Activities began with announcement of homecoming princesses after school Sept. 26. Barb DeBoe, freshman; Karen Mauder, sophomore; Marie Safin, junior; and seniors Aleta Grady, Lynda Perkins and Barb Warme composed royal court.

Due to new city ordinance prohibiting burning, Association conducted a "hang-in" in the auditorium Sept. 27 instead of usual bonfire. There they tried to convince and hanged a Rough Rider effigy.

After introducing homecoming princesses at halftime, Association president Bill McHie crowned Lynda Perkins queen and announced parade winners. Seniors captured first place float title with "Make 'Em Whine." Sophomores "We're Expecting a Wildcat Victory" came in second followed by juniors' "Beat the Riders Just for Kicks." Frosh float, "We're Betting on a Wildcat Victory," placed fourth.

Teachers Mrs. Nancy Jacobs, Mr. Ray Ball and city art coordinator Mr. Robert Fischer judged floats. Following the 28-20 loss to East Chicago Roosevelt, Wildcats attended the soc hop featuring "The Renaissance" at Civic Center.

Beaming from her throne, homecoming queen Lynda Perkins warbles Girls' combat ECR.

Riding on personalized spirit bottle thrones, senior royalty Barb Warme, Lynda Perkins and Aleta Grady grace senior float, "Make 'Em Whine."

Activities

Suspense over homecoming queen elections, combos' throbbing dynamism at soc hops, prom splendor, tears and relief following commencement carried HHS'ers through an array of school activities. Students became activated in a multitude of events. They swapped ideas with West Lafayette students, garnered laurels for their scholastic achievements and savored sights in Washington, DC, and New York City. HHS activities kaleidoscoped into fun-filled fare for Wildcat energetics.

Cats overlook color, creed; prefer individuality

Mixed emotions mark Brenda Jefferson's reaction to African breakfast served before school in Afro-American history.

Boasting a balanced blend of students, HHS taught its citizens a priceless lesson: acceptance of each individual as a human being, not as a white or black, a Mexican or Pole, a Jew or Presbyterian.

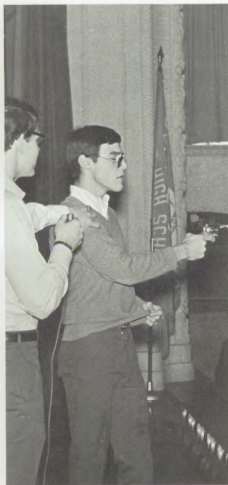

Whether in the locker room after a game, on stage before a concert or in the hall before class, Wildcats overlooked race, nationality, creed and father's occupation in favor of cooperation, personality.

In an era of increasing US racial tension, HHS tried to better student relations. Association human relations committee became a full-fledged club. A student petition resulted in a six-week Afro-American history course that attracted students of every race.

Firemen's charity program gets toys from Sandy Peterson, Sylvia Sang and Sue Weaver.

Perturbing Dennis Shoup, Maury McGough enacts bigotry in brotherhood auditorium.

Enthusiasts patronize school, region diversions

Enthusiasm and pride in the purple radiate from the stands of Friday night football fans.

Wildcats on the go surged through a kaleidoscope of activities. Revolving around school-oriented entertainment, students attended athletic meets, plays, fund-raising events, field trips and soc hops.

Breaking out of Hammond High orbit, teen spectators viewed movies, applauded concerts and stage plays, worshipped at churches.

Activists beach-partied, trick-or-treated, tobogganed, flew kites.

Auditorium sessions involved HHS'ers both as participants and audiences. Assemblies focused on safety, brotherhood, vocal music, citizenship, Illinois archeology, drama, student government and sports.

Reverence after quiet church moments inspires Judi MacCartney, Brian Rohde and Paul Foltz.

Entertainment sprinkled with education sparks auditorium session as Mr. Frank Burrows Jr. uses magic to stress auto safety.

As a result of an Association petition and Herald editorial, workman applies plaster to Hammond High corridors in a post-fire facelifting.

Bibbed for a group brush-in, cavity fighters Mary Simmons, Nancy Conway and LaVonne King fluoride their teeth in an IU program Feb. 11.

Headlines remind HHS'ers of world happenings

Rejoicing in US space feats and enduring international strife, HHS citizens reacted to headlines.

Robert Kennedy's assassination June 5 besmirched the Presidential campaign. Republicans nominated Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew in Miami Beach. Democrats staged their spectacle, replete with police-citizen riots, in Chicago.

To complicate matters, conservative George Wallace and Curtis LeMay carried some southern states, but Nixon eyelashed Humphrey to become the 37th President.

But before Lyndon Johnson left office, he witnessed Apollo 7 and 8 space spectaculars highlighted by 8's Christmas Eve moon orbit.

Another Christmas US gift came in the form of North Korea's release of the Pueblo crew 11 months after their capture for espionage. Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher and crew told a naval inquiry court of their torture and coerced confessions.

In other trials, Sirhan Sirhan pleaded temporary insanity in Robert Kennedy's murder; James Earl Ray pleaded guilty to Martin Luther King's murder; and Clay Shaw was found innocent of conspiring to kill President John Kennedy.

Once inaugurated, Nixon toured six European countries in February, hassled with the anti-ballistic missile question in March, then mourned former President D. D. Eisenhower's death March 28.

Cabinet secretaries included Melvin Laird, defense; William Rogers, state; and controversial Walter Hinkle for interior department.

Vietnam war continued, but peace talks in Paris—once delegates had decided the table's shape—offered some hope for settlement.

Other international news came from Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia, Biafran starvation, Arab-Israeli clashes, skyjacks to Cuba.

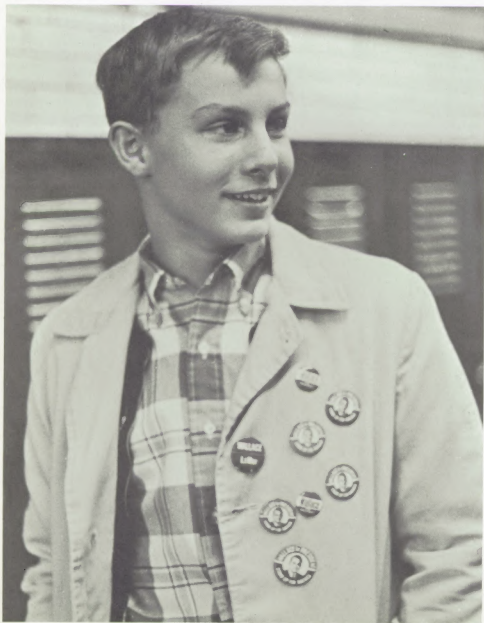

While student revolts rocked campuses, teachers struck in New York, East Chicago and Hammond.

Hoosiers elected Republican Edgar Whitcomb governor, had their cars inspected and paid the second highest auto gas tax in the US.

Natural forces made known their power when a pre-noon earthquake rocked 19 midwest states, including Indiana, Nov. 9. Floods and an offshore oil leak plagued Californians. Mid-winter's Hong Kong flu epidemic scourged the world.

Wedding news came from Jackie Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis, Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower.

Baseball fans saw Detroit beat St. Louis in the World Series, while grid enthusiasts saw Ohio State beat Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl. New York Jets upset Baltimore in the pro Super Bowl. UCLA with Lew Alcindor took a third straight NCAA cage title by whipping Purdue and Rick Mount. Unbeaten Indianapolis Washington went to the wire against Tolleson in winning the final game of the state basketball tourney.

Indicative of campaign fever that swept HHS, Fred Baginski sports political pins.

Stimuli strike teen reactors with pleasure, pain

Succumbing to winter's temptation, Odestress McCoy revels in sliding through fresh snow.

Their senses assaulted, tantalized or invigorated, HHS teens saw, heard, felt, tasted and sniffed.

Their eyes delighted in greening grass, the tulip tree budding on the south lawn, a steady's smile.

Hearing a vocal department finale thrilled them, though their 7 a.m. alarm clock jangled them.

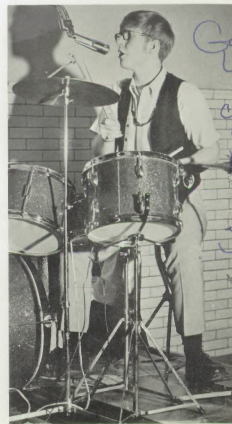

To erase recollections of a sub-zero wind whipping off Lake Michigan, March's first coatless day warmed arms and gladdened hearts.

Anything fattening teased taste buds, but nothing could turn them off faster than warm, flat cokes.

Chocolate cake baked in home ec caused envious sniffs throughout the building, but a dose of smog from East Chicago's steel mills and Whiting's oil refineries was enough to choke any Hammondite.

Thus stimuli struck HHS teens for a kaleidoscope of reactions.

Electronically amplified, comboist Robbie Clavier provides pulsating soc hop sounds.

Stark beauty of an icy afternoon in Harrison Park invites Rich Gard and Denise Paluck.

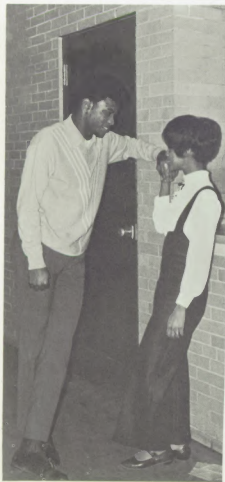

Fads, foods, fun, fashion deplete student wallets

Fads, foods, fun and fashion depleted students' funds. Average active Wildcats spent approximately $500 annually on school-associated expenses. HHS'ers disbursed dollars on top records "Those Were the Days," "Love Child," "Hey Jude," and movie blockbusters "Rosemary's Baby," "The Boston Strangler" and "Gone With the Wind."

Fashion-minded students acquired sweater vests, wide ties and mufflers. Girls donned culottes, leather outfits, ruffled blouses and heel-to-toe pants. Boys wore turtle-necks, and CPO and army jackets.

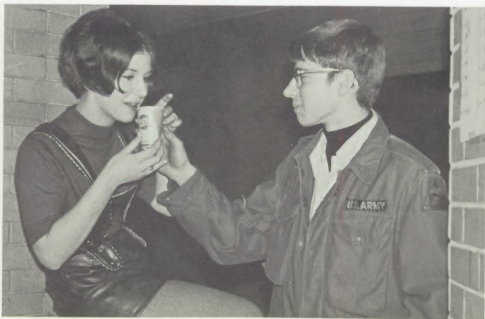

Students emptied their pockets for posters, stationery, I Am Loved paraphernalia, magazines, and snacks: pizza, fries and cokes.

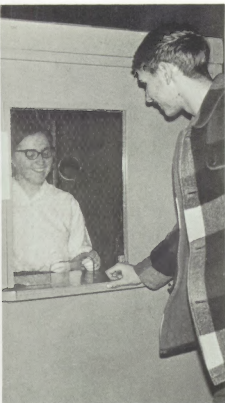

Knit-shirted John Lewis and Eunice Burns, wearing heel-to-toe slacks and a ruffled blouse, chat during basketball halftime.

Glad in sportswear typical of student school togs, monitor Robin Keightley, in culottes, vest and turtleneck, returns admit to Frank Cursansky, who also sports turtleneck sweater.

Attired in leather shorts, Beth Webb accepts coke proffered by army-jacketed Martin Tharp.

Selling basketball tickets at Civic Center, HHS worker Sue Johnsen obliges Bob Kras.

Pumping a dollar's worth of gas, service station attendant Jack Malia gauges the price.

Fulfilling carryout duties, Gary Bales bags groceries for a Saturday afternoon shopper.

Mouthwash section in a drugstore gets fresh supplies thanks to stocking by Don Johnson.

Expense-pressed teens profit from employment

To earn spending money, to save for education, or to help support their families, Wildcats joined pay-rolls of several area businesses.

Students' part-time occupations included toiling as hospital aides, waitresses and carhops, gas station attendants, stock boys and cashiers, babysitters, secretaries, music instructors and sales clerks.

School activities provided jobs such as cafeteria workers and ticket sellers for a few students.

Working on a volunteer basis outside of school, HHS'ers served as Sunday school teachers, candy strippers and Neighborhood Youth Corpsmen. In school they offered their services as office aides, monitors, bookstore and guidance workers.

Arranging accessories on shelf, Marian Grandbois fulfills her job in men's clothing shop.

Filling a family order, Ruth Rattay works as a counter girl for a chicken carry-out firm.

Working part-time at a lumber company, Leslie Cheatham operates a hydraulic lift.

Variety of vehicles transports teens on the go

Slogging through a snowbank, Kevin Jaynes and Mark Dongu race to reach seats on the bus.

Traversing to and from HHS, Wildcats created a kaleidoscope with their modes of transportation.

Although voluminous texts weighted them down, those who lived close enough hoofed their way to school.

Shore Line bus company supplied special buses for south and southwest side inhabitants. Northside riders not serviced by these buses hailed city buses at nearby corners. Family wheels served in getting many HHS'ers to classes. Either parents chauffeured or upperclassmen did their own driving.

Toting a stack of books, Sylvia Sang clambers into an awaiting car after school.

Characterizing upperclassmen, Jerry Beaman waits for passengers before leaving school.

Homebound after day's end, Sue Kritsch boards one of the waiting Shore Line school buses.

Scrunching into his car parked in faculty lot, Mr. Steve Kucer ends teaching day.

Crossing Highland St., rideless students form a steady southbound stream as they follow the familiar path toward home along Calumet Ave.

Solidly constructed, turn-of-the-century homes characterize the northside, but some of these houses are becoming multiple-family dwellings.

East Hammond boomed after 1906 when Pullman Standard opened its plant. Neighborhood citizens groups are now trying to improve the section.

Precisioned landscaping, winding streets and well-manicured lawns characterize the more exclusive southwest side of Hammond.

Neighborhoods reflect diversity of home bases

Northside, southside, East Hammond and their smaller neighborhoods kaleidoscoped as the array of home bases for HHS students.

Students went home to buildings that ranged from near-mansions to split-levels, from unpretentious frame homes to slum-houses and from trailers to apartment houses.

HHS'ers resided as far north as 140 St. near the toll road, and as far south as 178th St. near Little Calumet River, Hammond's southern boundary. Farthest east point was the 1700 block, with the west edge at the Illinois state line between Hammond and Calumet City.

Calumet Ave. to the west, Highland St. to the north, Cleveland St. to the south and Willard Ave. to the east formed the boundaries with the greatest density of population. The section with the least density was north of the Grand Calumet River. The population center, however, tended to move southward with each incoming class.

Near southside street retains brick-lined air of the past for industrial workers' homes.

Student life

Growing in an era of change, Hammond High citizens constructed a collage of everyday events. While jaunting to school; tackling part-time jobs; expending money, time and energy; attending church, movies and auditoriums; sensing their surroundings or witnessing the world's unrest, Wildcats and each aspect of their lives merged into a montage of teendom.

View through kaleidoscope depicts HHS diversity

As a kaleidoscope functions with constant elements moving in ever-changing patterns, Hammond High School in 1969 projected its own uniqueness while it retained its basic ideals of pride, brotherhood, tradition and achievements.

New ideas and experiences materialized on the HHS scene while others became a part of the past. Post-fire repairs and return of normality and pigeons; rivalry with Munster High; HHS-Clark merger proposals, rebuttal by shouts of "Keep HHS Alive"; and teacher, janitor strikes phased into the lives of all HHS citizens. These factors superceded such phased out elements as homecoming bonfire, gymnastics program and boys gym.

Environment and needs affected HHS'ers as they formed a montage in their ways of living, sensing, working, spending, moving and attending. Unlike student bodies at the other Hammond high schools, Wildcats compiled a mixture liberally flavored with all racial, religious and economic backgrounds.

Whether computing trigonometric functions, baking a batch of brownies for a club bake sale, memorizing lines for the all-school play or warming up on the field before a football game, students molded their year into a kaleidoscope of work, fun and memories.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has also become an important employer of women, with 5.5 million women employed in the public sector in 1995, compared with 4.5 million in 1980.

There are a number of reasons why the public sector has become an important employer of women. One reason is that the public sector has a high proportion of women in its workforce. In 1995, 88% of the public sector workforce were women, compared with 78% in 1980. This is due to a number of factors, including the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are traditionally held by women, such as teaching, nursing, and social work.

Another reason why the public sector has become an important employer of women is that it has a high proportion of jobs that are full-time and permanent. In 1995, 68% of the public sector workforce were employed on full-time contracts, compared with 58% in 1980. This is due to the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are essential to the functioning of the state, such as those in the health and education sectors.

Finally, the public sector has become an important employer of women because it has a high proportion of jobs that are well-paid. In 1995, the average salary of a public sector employee was £18,000, compared with £15,000 in 1980. This is due to the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are in the higher grades of the public sector pay scale, such as those in the senior management and professional grades.

The public sector has also become an important employer of women because it has a high proportion of jobs that are flexible. In 1995, 22% of the public sector workforce were employed on flexible contracts, compared with 12% in 1980. This is due to the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are part-time or have flexible hours, such as those in the health and education sectors.

The public sector has also become an important employer of women because it has a high proportion of jobs that are secure. In 1995, 88% of the public sector workforce were employed on secure contracts, compared with 78% in 1980. This is due to the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are essential to the functioning of the state, such as those in the health and education sectors.

The public sector has also become an important employer of women because it has a high proportion of jobs that are well-located. In 1995, 68% of the public sector workforce were employed in the London region, compared with 58% in 1980. This is due to the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are in the central business district, such as those in the financial and legal sectors.

The public sector has also become an important employer of women because it has a high proportion of jobs that are well-structured. In 1995, 68% of the public sector workforce were employed in the public sector, compared with 58% in 1980. This is due to the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are in the public sector, such as those in the health and education sectors.
